CASE NO. 09-CV-2301 - IEG (WVG)
ORDER DISMISSING ACTION FOR LACK OF SUBJECT MATTER
JURISDICTION

18 On October 19, 2009, the Court ordered Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be 19 dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. To date, despite asking for an extension of time in 20 which to reply, Plaintiff has failed to respond. Accordingly, for the reasons set forth below, the Court
21 DISMISSES this action for lack of subject matter jurisdiction.

22 BACKGROUND

23 Plaintiff filed his complaint in this action on October 16, 2009, alleging causes of action for 24 quiet title, nuisance, wrongful foreclosure, violation of the Truth in Lending Act ("TILA"), and to set
25 aside trustee's sale. [Doc. No. 1]. On the same day, Plaintiff also filed an Emergency Motion for 26 Temporary Restraining Order ("TRO"), seeking this Court's order enjoining Defendants from evicting
27 Plaintiff and selling Plaintiff's property to a third party. [Doc. No. 3]. On October 19, 2009, the Court
28 denied Plaintiff's TRO motion and ordered Plaintiff to show cause why this action should not be

1 dismissed for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. [Doc. No. 4]. On November 16, 2009, the Court
 2 granted Plaintiff's motion for more time to respond, ordering that Plaintiff respond to the Order to
 3 Show Cause by December 7, 2009. [Doc. No. 7]. To date, there has been no response.

4 LEGAL STANDARD

5 It is axiomatic that federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction and as such "possess only
 6 that power authorized by Constitution and statute, which is not to be expanded by judicial decree."
 7 Kokkonen v. Guardian Life Ins. Co. of Am., 511 U.S. 375, 377 (1994) (internal citations omitted). The 8 court must presume that a case lies outside of its limited jurisdiction, and the burden of establishing
 9 jurisdiction is on the party asserting it. Id. Lack of subject matter jurisdiction can be raised at any time
 10 by any party or sua sponte by the court. Csibi v. Fustos, 670 F.2d 134, 136 n.3 (9th Cir. 1982).

11 When the court's jurisdiction is based on a "federal question," the question must be disclosed
 12 on the face of the complaint. Sparta Surgical Corp. v. Nat'l Ass'n of Securities Dealers, Inc., 159 F.3d
 13 1209, 1211 (9th Cir. 1998). Under the longstanding well-plead complaint rule, this means that 14 jurisdiction is proper "only when the plaintiff's statement of his own cause of action shows that it is 15 based upon federal law." Vaden v. Discover Bank, 129 S. Ct. 1262, 1272 (2009) (citation omitted).

16 Jurisdiction founded on "diversity of citizenship" requires that there be both complete diversity
 17 of the parties and an amount in controversy exceeding $75,000. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a). "Complete
 18 diversity" does not exist unless "each defendant is a citizen of a different State from each plaintiff."
 19 Owen Equip. & Erection Co. v. Kroger, 437 U.S. 365, 373 (1978).

20 DISCUSSION

21 In the present case, Plaintiff alleges that federal jurisdiction is proper under both 28 U.S.C. §
 22 1331 ("federal question") and 28 U.S.C. § 1332 ("diversity of citizenship"). (Compl. ¶ 4.)

23 The Court finds there is no "federal question" giving rise to federal jurisdiction in this case.
 24 Plaintiff's claim for enforcement of rescission under TILA is the only federal claim alleged in the 25 Verified Complaint. However, as the Court determined in its October 19, 2009 Order, [Doc. No. 4],
 26 the foreclosure sale of Plaintiff's property in 2008 operated to terminate Plaintiff's right of rescission.
 27 See 15 U.S.C. § 1635(f) ("An obligor's right of rescission shall expire three years after the date of 28 consummation of the transaction or upon the sale of the property, whichever occurs first . . ."); 12

1 C.F.R. § 226.23(a)(3); see also Marschner v. RJR Fin. Servs., Inc., 382 F. Supp. 2d 918, 921 (E.D.
2 Mich. 2005) (concluding that a foreclosure sale terminated the plaintiff's unexpired right to rescind).
3 Accordingly, Plaintiff's claim for rescission under TILA is barred by the statute of repose. See Beach
4 v. Ocwen Fed. Bank, 523 U.S. 410, 417-19 (1998); Miguel, 309 F.3d at 1163-65. This, in turn,
5 deprives the Court of subject matter jurisdiction over the action. See Miguel, 309 F.3d at 1163-65.

6 The Court also finds there is no "diversity of citizenship" jurisdiction in this case. For 7 jurisdiction to be proper on this basis, there must be both complete diversity and an amount in
8 controversy exceeding $75,000. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(a). In the present case, Plaintiff's Verified
9 Complaint alleges that both Plaintiff and Defendant Cal-Western Reconveyance Corporation are 10 California citizens. (Compl. ¶¶ 7, 10.) Accordingly, because "complete diversity" is clearly lacking
11 in this case, there can be no jurisdiction based on the diversity of citizenship.

12 CONCLUSION

13 For the foregoing reasons, the Court DISMISSES this action for lack of subject matter
14 jurisdiction. The Clerk of Court shall close the case.

15 IT IS SO ORDERED.
